Here some things about the pictures "Therapy" You have seen in my work. There are some interpretations of it. The naked woman is been held hostage by here thinking and feelings, the stuff around here, and the pain of pastime, symbolized by the red thread. She is a woman because I think it would be the one symbol to show that the famine of given Live, beautifully and peace is given Principe should be a woman.

The pentagram is the Celtic Symbol of the destiny by god, that is normal the theme in the Therapy, the destiny.

The pentagram is the symbol of God's will. God is testing our believes and behaviors. The Principe is to look at how we are. Most of the time people show her real character in a crisis. Jesus gives us to Laws, one is to love God the other one is to love our strangers and neighbor. In the pentagram is all that happens in the past, it formed our character and influences the future.

There is no roadmap of Live, someone uses the short way, which seems to be an easy way. But this is mostly cheating ourselves. Or that way is an oneway without return. In all of the other ways, we need help and friends for a balance Live.

The world is full of Symbols, we need them to orientate us on the right way of Live. Without Symbles we lost ourselves. Symbols told us how to go or how we are.

The constructive Principe of Live is that way. Behind the woman is the Therapy in his character, there should be closed like a circle, from the start to the end. In Therapy we talk about our inside, our secrets all about kinds of stuff we would not talk our secret friend. Therapy is intervening in our secrets, feelings, thinking, it changes our complete Live. It should liberate us from these thinks how to harm us. The Thinks how to harm us are the Thinks which did not allow us to live a constructive Live in liberating being. In the end, so like the start, the woman is naked with the red thread in his hand. After triumphant Therapy, she is liberating she is free to be as she wants to be if constructive in living here Live. There is nothing which she interrupts to life. She could take the formidable challenge of Live without damage here. I hope she lives it constructively in a better way.

We can not change the world, but we can color it a little bit. The naked is it which makes us vulnerable to the world without clothes and protection the world can vulnerable us without any protection, but after Therapy, we win the most fight of daily fights and need no protection anymore. Okay, this should be a little bit idealism, but in that way, You can go. How fare is Your turn. How long therapy lasts depends on the deepness of the conflict. So no one knows.

But take care of the ways of no return, mostly they look easy but there aren't. In good therapy, you learn to find the difference.

Successful therapy could help to change your world. Therapy is an essential part to have a new Life. Without therapy, Life will be as chaotic as it is. So I hope that people will get therapy and recognize how important the difference between therapies and not therapies is.
